EXTENSION CHURCHES

Extension churches are usually new congregations formed in developing areas where there has been no prior Brethren in Christ witness. These congregations receive brotherhood assistance through the Board for Missions during their beginning years, with the view toward their becoming self-supporting conference churches.

At present there are nineteen extension churches in North America. The Skyline View (PA congregation plans to become a conference church in mid-summer 1975). A new extension church project is planned for Kirkland Lake (ONT), to begin in late summer (see the next page).

Extension Churches

Sixth in a series on Brethren in Christ Missions

Northern Ontario has been an area of special interest for the Canadian Conference for a number of years. The first organized effort to launch a witness in the region during this generation was the sending of a youth witnessing team in 1963. For five years, mission workers Eldon and Lynn Byers carried on a Sunday school ministry while teaching school in Virginiatown. Summer ministries relating to Kids' Crusades and Vacation Bible Schools have been conducted by teams under George Sider's guidance since 1966. The entire area lacks both a Wesleyan and Anabaptist influence, and the evangelical witness in Kirkland Lake is rather weak.

As a result of a 1972 study, the Canadian Conference approved an extension ministry in the Kirkland Lake area. This progressed to the point that in 1974, the Conference authorized purchase of a lot, and the assignment of a pastor for the summer of 1975. Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Lofthouse have agreed to accept the full-time pastoral responsibilities.

It is expected that the emerging congregation in Kirkland Lake, which may meet for worship in a school building at first, will assume the pastoral support and other operational costs before proceeding with the construction of a church building.

The long-term vision is that of trusting the Lord to raise up a strong, viable congregation in Kirkland Lake which would then become the center for ministry and fellowship with smaller satellite "cell" congregations in outlying communities within driving distance of Kirkland Lake. These cell churches would be self-supporting, pastored by lay leadership or self-supported ministers.
